

ERASMUS+ EUROPEAN & INTERNATIONAL CREDIT MOBILITY STAFF TRAINING WEEK 2016

Changing Lives through Mobility and Cross-border Cooperation

8th-12th February 2016 – Middlesex University London, Hendon Campus

DRAFT PROGRAMME

Monday 8th

13.30 – 14:00: Registration
14.00 – 15.00: Welcome & Introduction to Middlesex University
Dr Maggie Butt
15.00 – 15.30: TBC
15.30 – 15.45: Coffee break
15.45 – 16.00: Looking at the week ahead
Dr Sophie Ball
16.00 – 18.00: Campus Tour
Student Exchange Team, TBC
19.00: Dinner at Hendon Hall Hotel

Tuesday 9th

11.00 – 13.00: Erasmus+ Key Action 1: Learning Mobility of Individuals
Dr Nosheen Rachel-Naseem, with the participation of invited speakers from Erasmus partners in Programme and Partner Countries, focusing on the following topics (TBC):

- 1) Relevance of Mobility in Internationalisation Strategy
- 2) Development and Quality of Cooperation Agreements
- 3) Practical Arrangements for Welcoming Exchange Students
- 4) Impact and Dissemination of Exchange Activities

13.00 – 14.00: Lunch
14.00 – 16.00: Cross-cultural Communication and Networking Opportunities

Wednesday 10th

10.00 – 14.00: Conference - People and Culture
concluding with lunch

Overview: The Erasmus+ programme identifies the need for the development of cohesive and inclusive societies, and proposes to make a major contribution towards this outcome through its four interlinked strands: education, training, youth and sport. Middlesex University identifies diversity as one of its signature values. Our programmes are delivered to 40,000 students around the world. We work with a wide range of national and international partner institutions and have developed campuses in Dubai, Malta and Mauritius. At our London campus, we are proud to welcome students and staff from across the globe as well as a multi-cultural community of British students, reflecting the diversity of our university's home city. A substantial university-wide project is currently underway to examine how diversity is embedded, communicated and sustained in the course of the work of our students and staff. With contributions from guest speakers from a range of national and international organisations, as well as academic experts from Middlesex, this mini-conference will explore several of the themes that lie at the heart of diversity, as well as Erasmus+ and Middlesex priorities: social inclusion, employability and global citizenship.

The detailed programme for this day will be published once we have confirmation regarding the invited speakers.

Thursday 11th

11.00 – 15.00: Study Abroad Fair with invited partners

Friday 12th

Late morning – mid-afternoon: London cultural activity

Participants will be presented with two or three options and will be asked to send their choice to the Erasmus and International Exchanges Office.

We will send the final programme for the week in January, once we have confirmed all speakers and reservations.